Respite supports people to stay at home longer

We know that many older people are able to stay living in their own homes for longer because of the help their family and friends provide.

We also know that helping carers to remain happy and healthy is critical to ensure they can continue to support their loved one.

That's why respite services are so important. We provide carers with an opportunity for a break from their caring role, whilst the older people they care for are provided with the opportunity to engage in fun and stimulating activities in a caring environment and socialise with others.

Benetas can step in at short notice—whether it's for a short period, overnight or extended stay—ensuring they're well looked after at our Kilby House Respite Centre.

“Researchers have found that each additional hour of service received per week is associated with a 6 per cent lower risk of entry into permanent care. The more hours of home care services that people accessed, the lower their risk of entry into residential care.”

Dr Mikaela Jorgensen, lead researcher at Australian Institute of Health Innovation
